DEATH OF COL. CARY

ME-SUPPERS A RELAPSE AND DIES. RATHER UNEXPECTEDLY.

MOBLE AND USEFUL CAREER ENDED

A Scholar of Brilliant Attainments, a Man of Sterling Integrity, and a Pablic-Spirited Citizen-Army Record and Business Career.

Colonel John B. Cary died yesterday morning between 4 and 5 o'clock at his home. No. 720 east Franklin street.

The news came upon the community in the nature of a sad surprise, for though had been lying for some weeks nimost at death's door, and his life had been deepaired of again and again, he railled wonderfully from the effects of the virulent disease from which he suffered, and within a few hours of his death his condition was not at all alarming.

The relapse came on Tuesday night, and was followed Wednesday morning with a return of the chills which had had such a debilitating effect in the early stages of the disease. The pain was so intense that the patient was placed under the influence of morphine, but he never railled, and sank slowly and peacefully into rest shortly after 4 A. M.

The deep regret felt at the death of Colonel Cary was manifested yesterday In sincere expressions of sympathy for the bereaved, and admiration for the sterling character of the deceased. Public bodies, notably the Chamber of Com-merce, the Life Underwriters' Association of Virginia, met, as others will do to-day, to pay tributes to his memory, and hundreds called at the residence to tender their sympathies. Telegrams were received from all parts of the country, Including one signed by the Board of Di rectors of the Northwestern Mutual Life-Insurance Company, which he had represented here for many years, .

SICK NEARLY A MONTH. The passing of this good man and eminent citizen will be a great blow to the community, and he will be long and tenderly mourned. The fatal disease from which he died first manifested itself last spring. Colonel Cary recovered from the attack, but succumbed to serious complications which developed on Sunday, December 19th.

In the death of Colone! Cary Richmond loses a great and good man, and a distinguished and useful citizen. No one was ever simpler, truer, or more honest. He possessed a warm and kindly heart, full of an even, extraordinary gentleness and sweetness, and he was patient for-bearing, charitable, and magnanimous without effort. He was universally re-garded as a genuinely honest man, in-capable of duplicity in thought or deed. wholly true and sincere, inspired always by that prisca fides which purifies and nnobles, and resolutely bent, in the dark hour as in the bright, on the full per-formance of his duty.

Colonel Cary died in the fulness of time, having long passed the allotted span of a man's life, and to-day it may be truly said that he has fulfilled his mission. and borne it so that no invidious tongue can level the shafts of calumny at the great character which he has left behind

TRUE TYPE OF AMERICAN.

Colonel Cary may be accepted as a true type of the American, and the southern gentleman. Wherever philosophy, refinement, and culture have gone upon the globe, it is possible to place the finger upon individual men who are the exemplars of a nation's character, those typical forms under which others less noble less expanded, have manifested them-selves. Born from the general level of American society, he sprung from dis-tinguished antecedents, and he was a type of the race from which he came. He was a member of the famous Cary famfly of Virginia, and was a son of Colonel Gill Armistead Cary, of "Elmwood," Elizabeth City county, where he was born, October 18, 1819. In a typical and picturesque old country house of Virginia he passed his early years amid scenes and surroundings which must have made their impression upon his character at a period when the mind takes every new influence and grows in accordance with it; and to the last the man remained simple, hearty, proud, and courteous—the country Virginian in all the texture of his character. His father dispensed a very generous hospitality, and, dying when the subject of this sketch was scarcely 19 years old, the burden of the support of his mother and his brothers fell upon his shoulders,

His mother was a Miss Baytop, of Gloucester county. He was the oldest of four brothers-Dr. Robert N. Cary, Gill Armistead Cary, and Richard Miles Cary, of Mobile, the last named being the only one surviving. Gill Armistead Cary married a sister of Colonel W. Gordon Me strikingly-characteristic incident is related of him at this period. His father died deeply involved in debt, brought upon him by going security for friends. John B. Cary gave his personal note for every cent of his father's indebtedness, declaring that no stain should rest that no stain should rest upon his parent's memory, and he paid in full

EDUCATIONAL CAREER

He graduated with distinction from William and Mary College in 1835, and subsequently took his degree as Master of Arts.
At the time of his death he was a member of the Board of Governors of his Alma Mater. He was an eminent scholar and a born teacher, and, following the drift of his inclinations, founded at Hampton the Military Academy, which became, as a Hampton the result of his indomitable energy and disschools of the South. The school was the outgrowth of the famous Hampton Academy, which was founded in 1847. Colonel Cary was the last principal or this, the oldest educational establishment in America. The old building was destroyed, and then Colonel Cary built the Military Institute, and changed, in many respects, the old regime. Boys were there from every section of the country, and the success of the principal in mou ing character was generally recognized. He had a rare faculty for controlling boys, and was possessed of an exquisite skill in imperting knowledge. He instilled into his pupils the highest principles of honor. There was no esplonage, but a high moral code, and the offenders were left to the mercilessness of public opinion. Colonel Wilfred E. Cutshaw, a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, was asral years just prior to the war. He had charge of the military regime, and of the School of Mathematics. Among Colonel Carries profile. Cary's pupils were Colonel Gordon Mc-Cabe, Colonel Tabb, of Hampton; Captain John A. Curtis, Captain James Barron Hope, late editor of the Norfolk Land Mope, late editor of the Norfelk Land-mark; the Rookers, Judge Baker P. Lee, the Armistends, the Whitneys, Wil-liam H. Curtis, W. F. Brittingham, Colonel Julian Whiting, Colonel Ed-ward Ivy of New Orleans, Colonel Johan-who led the charge at Malvern IIIB-William Simkins Jones, and many others who have them to chall and will others who have risen to civil and mil

BOYS DEVOTED TO HIM. The devotion of his boys was marked and unwavering and it is the proud boast of his pupils to this day that they were educated at the Hampton Military Academy. In a recent address, deliver-Academy. In a recent address, delivered before Lee Camp, Colonel Cary, alluding to the record made by his scholars, said there was not one that he had ever had any reason to feel ashamed of, and many of them had attained nence in various walks of life.

was another reunion of the academy old boys in 1895, and on this occasion Colonel Gordon McCabe was the orator. It is said that the reunion caused a profound sensation, not alone by reason of its size, but because of the distinguished men who attended it, and the procession of gray-haired men was wildly cheered as it passed through the streets of the town.

A tender remark of respect and love was A tender remark of respect and love was shown by the "old boys" in Richmond, when it was learned that Colonel Cary was in extremis, and their request that they might be allowed to be the active pall-bearers, and carry their beloved teacher to his last resting place was readily granted, and Colonel Cary himself left instructions to this effect.

The aeademy was broken up, with the mear approach of the enemy, when the war broke out, and most of the boys entered the Confederate army in different departments, most of them, however, enlisting in the same regiment with enlisting in the same regiment with BELIEVER IN STATES' RIGHTS. Colonei Cary was an ardent believer in States' rights, and when the time came, and Virginia, his mother, called to him, he drew his sword, not to perpetuate slavery, not to overthrow the government of the United States, but in defence of constitutional liberty.

He entered the army as major of the Thirty-Second Virginia Regiment, with which he screed until 1862, when he was promoted and appointed Assistant-Inspector-General, with the rank of licu-

Digasure to his efforts that the Ccuncil appropriated the money to build the Auditorium and provide for the entertainment of the veterans during the reunion of Confederates in 18%; he had worked indefatigably, and not altogether unsuccessfully, it is believed, as a member of the Confederate Memorial Committee from Virginia to bring the proposed Rouss Museum to this city, and in many other ways he did much for the aggrandizement of the cause he loved so faithfully and so well. He was foremost in the work of arranging for all public celebrations.

Colonel Cary was appointed on the Board of Directors of the penitentiary by Governors Holliday and Fitz Lee, and served as president of the board during a part of the time. He was mainly instrumental in the inauguration of the contract system, and it was during his resime, and as a result, in a great regime, and as a result, in a great measure, of his efforts, that the prison was put upon a self-supporting basis.

ACTIVE IN HIS CHURCH. ACTIVE IN HIS CHURCH.

Colonel Cary married Miss Columbia

Hudgens, of Seaford, Matthews county.

She was a member of the Christian church in her county, while the Carys were all Episcopalians, but the Colonel became a convert to the Christian Church

after the war, and was a prominent the was mainly instrumental in raising the money for the beautiful edifice on the corner of Seventh and Grace streets, and has always been one of the most prominent men in that congregation. It was while dressing to go to church on Sunday, December 19th, to make the announcement relative to the call of Rev. tenant-colonel, on General Magruder's staff. This took place after the battle of Bethel, where he was distinguished by conspicuous bravery. Shortly afterwards he was incapacitated for service of the color of the c on Magauder's staff through breaking his | was selzed with his last fatal illness. He arm, and volunteered in the quarter-master's department. His offer was master's department. His offer was accepted, and he remained in Richmond until the close of hostilities. He was a daring officer during his active service, and distinguished himself on many a hard-fought field.

COLONEL JOHN B. CARY.

HIS LIFE IN BUSINESS.

After the war Colonel Cary engaged with more or less success, in several mer cantile pursuits. At one time he was th storekeeper at the penitentiary, having been elected to that position by the State Legislature soon after the close of the war. Later he engaged in the wholesale grocery business with Mr. William A. Armistead, under the firm-name of Armi-

He was associated in several enterprises with Mr. Charles Y. Morris, general agent of the Piedmont and Arlington Life-Insurance Company. He resigned in Harry Heth, as State managers of Life Association of America, After Gene-ral Heth withdrew, he continued the took the agency for Virginia of the Northwestern Mutual Life-Insurance Company of Milwaukee, Wis. His friends laughed at his management until January, 1878, when he made this departure, and scoffed at the idea of a western insurance company foothold in the South. Colonel Cary was undaunted, and by his energy and fine business instincts he built pany in Virginia. In 1883 North Carolina was added to his field, and his son, T. Archibald Cary, became his partner. After he had been with this company for three years, he was elected presider of the Association of Agents, which is composed of several hundred of the leading representatives of the company in all parts of the country. Year by year he was unanimously re-elected by a rising vote, and when recently he caused a telegram to be sent to the annual meet ing, asking his confreres to elect some was ill and might never leave his house again, he received an answer that he had been elected, nevertheless, and affect tionate resolutions of condolence had

PUBLIC-SPIRITED CITIZEN. Colonel Cary rendered distinguished service to the city in many ways. He served as a member of the Board of Aldermen for one term of four years beginning July 1, 1890, and was active on the Finance, Water, and Schools committees. But it was as Superintendent of Public Schools that he rendered the greatest service, and it has been generally conceded that the city never had a more efficient officer. When he was elected to that position by the State Board of Education, of which General Fitzhugh Lee was then president, the condition that he should not be compelled to resign his business interests was readily conceded.

Colonel Cary was an ardent politician day evening. In his earlier years, and though he was devoted to his profession as a scholar, he was foremost in his section in political affairs. It is said of him, that in the old days, when the landed gentry controlled the polls, the people never dreamed of nominating a congressman or a man for any political office from his district un-less he and the late Mr. George Booker wers on hand to signify their wishes in

He was for some time chairman of the City Democratic Committee, on which body he served for a number of years. He was a candidate at different times for the House of Delegates, and for the Senate, but was defeated both times. This, it is said, was due to the fact that he never made an active canvass, for he was so highly esteemed in the community that it is believed if he had asked, personally, for the suffrages

Mr. Moore was carrying a shotgun at the time of his accident, and had evidently been hunting game.

His injuries were mostly about the of the people, he would not have sought hem in vain. One of the most interesting, and probably one of the most exciting inel-dents of Colonel Cary's career was the part he played in the duel between John Pembroke Jones, of Norfolk, and James day afternoon. Barron Hope, the editor of the Norfolk Landmark. The duel was fought at the Sandhills in North Carolina, in spite of Colonel Cary's efforts at conciliation.

DEVOTED TO THE SOUTH. Colonel Cary never wavered in his devotion to the "Lost Cause," and whenever money was to be raised or work was to be done be was ready to labor, and did labor, tirelessly for the end in view. It was due chiefly to his efforts that the 1863 there was a reunion of his scholars at Hampton, and of the thirty-two present, thirfy were commissioned officers in the Confederate Memorial would be confederate army and navy. There Literary Society; it was due in a great Oil.

had suffered with bladder trouble since last spring, but complications arose, and at the last his heart, liver, and stomach were all involved.

Colonel Cary leaves one son and three daughters—Mr. T. Archibald Cary, of Richmond; Mrs. Lizzie Cary Daniel, of Richmond; Mrs. John L. White, of Caroline county, and Miss Gillie Cary, of Richmond, Mrs. Louis P. Knowles, of nsacola, another daughter, died in 1891 His eldest son, John B. Cary, Jr., died just before the war from the effects of a bullet-wound in the hand, received while playing with a revolver.

THE FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS. The funeral will take place at 1:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon from the Seventh-Street Christian church. Professor Richard M. Cary, the only surway from Mobile, Ala., in order to be

Rev. Jabez Hall, D. D., has telegraphed his wish to perform the last sad rites over the body of his much-loved friend, and he will be assisted by Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge, Rev. Dr. Cooper, and Rev. J. J. Gravatt. The interment will take place in Hollyword Cemetery, and his body will be borne to the tomb by those of his old pupils who live in or near Richmond. old pupils who live in or near Richmond. The honorary pall-bearers will be Messrs. J. L. Maury, John B. Purcell, William M. Hill, John S. Ellett, S. H. Hawes, George W. Anderson, Charles McGruder, Dr. Green, Joseph Bryan, Thomas Taliaferro, Dr. Humphrey of Norfolk, Julian P. Thomas, William F. Fox, George L. Christian, J. Taylor Ellyson, James N. Boyd, John R. Cary, Thomas L. Alfriend, Fred. Pleasants, Cunningham Hall, Dr. Tabor, and E. V. Cunningham Hall, Dr. Tabor, and E. V. Valentine.

LEE CAMP'S DETAIL.

The following detail has been appointed from Lee Camp to attend the funeral Lieutenant-Commander Joseph C. Dickerson, and Comrades Joseph V. Bidgood, Greer H. Baughman, Thomas A. Brander, Fred B. Elliott, W. B. Freeman, E. A. Catlin, and Robert N. Thomas. The detail will assemble at the camp hall at 1 o'clock on Saturday.

The Davis Monument Association, of which Colonel Cary was a member, will meet at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and take appropriate action in regard to his death.

MR. J. W. MOORE IS DEAD.

Did Not Regain Consciousness, and Made No Statement.

Mr. James W. Moore, who was so terribly hurt on Wednesday evening while walking on the Chesapeake and Ohio trestle, west of Denny street, being struck by a "gondola" attacked to the tender of Engine No. 299, died at the Retreat for the Sick at 6:15 o'clock yester-

He remained unconscious to the last, and made no statement which served to establish his identity. He talked incessantly in a rambling, incoherent way, but his mind wandered to personal experiences, and he mentioned names in such a vague way that it threw no light upon his relationship.

When Mr. Moore was picked up on Wednesday evening he was able to give his name to the ambulance surgeon stated that his home was in King William county, and that he had come here to visit his niece; then he lapsed into un-consciousness. No inquiries were made for him at the hospital, personally or by letter, and his remains were turned over to Undertaker Billey last night. Mr. Moore was carrying a shotgun at

His injuries were mostly about the head, though his body was badly bruised. A careful examination by physicians showed that he had sustained no internal injuries, and the chances of his recovery were by no means obscure until yester-

The Negro Jeweller's Complaint. D. J. Dyer, a man 39 years old, who halls from New Orleans, was arrested yesterday evening on a warrant sworn out by D. J. Crane, the colored jeweller, charging him with obtaining $21 from him under false pretences. Crane claims that Dyer represented himself as an insurance agent and got his money in premiums. Dyer was not bailed.

The most estonishing results in healing wounds have been shown by Salvation WOMEN OPPOSE IT.

DELINOUENT LAND-BILL

THEY ASK SENATORS TO VOTE AGAINST ANTI-PLIRTATION BILL.

House Committee Decides to Report Unfavorably - Oyster Bill Not Agreed On-Whipping-Post Bill May Pass-Anti-Trading-Stamp Bill,

Several women are lobbying against Senator McCune's anti-flirtation bill. They have been on the floor of the Senate several times during this week, and at least one senator has been approached several times by some of them, and urged to vote against the bill. They oppose it on the general ground that the Legislature has no right to interfere in such matters, As became a convert to the Christian Chiles after the war, and was a prominent member of that body when they used to congregate in the old Sycamore church. He was mainly instrumental in raising the Legislature has nothing whatever to one of them expressed it. "If a girl wants do with it."

Another one said: "You are talking about protecting the girls from the smiles and smirks of the men, but you say no thing of protecting the men. Why make a difference?" It is safe to say that this was a view of the matter no member of the Senate had ever taken before.

Senator McCune said he was perfectly aware of the opposition women are making to the bill. "I do not mind this at all," he said. "I do not wish to protect any woman who does not want protection. The bill is drawn to furnish protection to those who need it, and want it." Mr. McCune's bill will come up before the Senate Committee on Education this morning at 10 o'clock. It is expected that the representatives of several female schools of the State will be present, and urge that the bill be favorably reported.

THE WHIPPING-POST BILL. "The whipping-post bill will pass the House," said Mr. Murphy last night, "I was assured by a man who had made a poll of the body that had a vote been taken immediately after the debate today the bill would have received 75 votes, I have no reason to believe it will receive a less vote to-morrow, if a final bal-lot is taken, as I expect. I believe it will also pass the Senate. I am greatly gratified at the growth of sentiment favoring it in that body."

The anti-trading-stamp bill was not considered by the Committee on Banks and Commerce, owing to the absence of a member of the sub-committee which here charge of the bill. DELINQUENT LAND SALES.

At a meeting of the House Committee on Courts of Justice last night it was determined to report a substitute bil for the one which passed the Senate repealing the present law relating to the pur chase by the State of delinquent lands, and the sub-committee appointed to draft the bill was instructed to report it with the recommendation that it do not pass.

Captain R. S. Parks spoke in favor of the present law, saying that the income of the State from delinquent lands the year before the present law went into effect was $13,000, and in the year after-wards was $4,300. Mr. Winborne strongly advocated the present law, as did Mr. Hicks, and Mr. Willard. Mr. Winborne's amendment requiring notice to be given only to persons in whom title is resident. was adopted, and it was then agree that a sub-committee be intrusted w the work of formulating a new bill on the lines indicated by the committee, and that this should be reported to the House with the recommendation that it do not

THE OYSTER BILLS. The House Committee on the Chesa-peake and its Tributaries met last night in executive session for the purpose of considering the two bills now before it. The committee appointed under a recent resolution of the House, composed of a representative from each congressional district, met with the House Committee. The Craig bill was considered at some length, but the Bland bill was not taken The committee adjourned without reaching a conclusion. however, that a bill will be reported next

MAJOR GINTER'S BEQUESTS.

The bill of Senator Munford, relieving from the collateral inheritance tax the bequests of Major Lewis Ginter, will be considered by the Senate Committee on Finance in Room No. 3, on the third floor, at the Capitol at 10 A. M. Thurs-Those interested will be given opportunity to be heard.

Another bill, of which Senator Mun-ford is patron, one amending the charter of the city of Richmond, will be considered by the Senate Committee on Cities and Towns at 10 A. M. Tuesday. TAX ON TELEPHONES.

The Senate Finance Committee yester-day morning heard argument in favor of Senator McIlwaine's bill taxing telephone ings, the same tax to be imposed on telegraph companies. At present telephone companies pay a tax of $1.50 on each transmitter. Final action on the each transmitter. Final action on the bill was postponed, owing to the absence of Senator McIlwaine. Those who appeared in favor of the bill were Messrs. C. W. Scott, of Lynchburg; William Pan-nill, of Norfolk; Watts, of Staunton; E. W. McAnge, of Suffolk; Armstrong, of Hampton, and A. B. Gulgon, of Rich-

COMMITTEE NEWS IN BRIEF. The House Committee on Counties, es, and Towns met yesterday morning, and held quite an extended session. number of bills were considered and reported favorably.

At an adjourned session held last evening the committee decided to recommend two bills introduced by Mr. T. T. Powell. One of them authorizes the Common Council of the city of Newport News to issue bonds, while the other seeks to imend the charter in regard to the is House Committee on Privileges and Elections was called to meet yesterday morning for the purpose of considering the Le Sueur-Rlanton election con test for the seat in the House from Cumberland and Buckingham counties. Senator W. M. Flanagan, counsel for Mr. L. B. Le Sueur, was on hand, but Senator H. D. Flood, who is to look after the interests of Colonel B. W. L. Blanton, was unable to be present. The meeting was, therefore, postponed until this morning at

The Finance Committee of the House was to have considered Mr. Saunders's bill with reference to the creation of a board of assessors to assess the property of telegraph and express companies, but postponed the matter until Tuesday af-ternoon at 4 o'clock.

REFORMATORY INVESTIGATION. The committee appointed to investigate the charges made on the floor of the House Wednesday regarding the duct of affairs at the Laurel Reformatory will begin the investigation in a day or two. The workings of the reformatory will be thoroughly investigated, and the committee will probably spend some LEGISLATIVE NOTES. Mr. N. B. Early, the delegate from Greene county, has accepted an invita tion to address the veterans at the Soldiers' Home on General Lee's birinday, his subject being "The Character of Robert E. Lee.

Mr. A. F. Withrow, the delegate from Alleghany, Bath, and Highland, left for Staunton yesterday to attend a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Western State Asylum, of which he is a member. Senator Barksdale presided during a portion of the session of the Senate yesterday, wielding the gavel with grace and dignity. dignity.

The House Committee on Courts of Jus-tice will consider Mr. Charles Smith's anti-trust bill Tuesday, There will hot fight made against the bill.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY MEETING. Interesting Gathering of Baptist Ladles-Condition of the Work.

The woman's missionary meeting held in the pariors of the First Baptist church yesterday at 11:30 A. M. was of great interest. The large room was filled, and the exercises were deeply interesting. The meeting had been well advertised and the arrangements for its conduct were thorough and complete. The ladies prepared themselves to edify others and to be edified. As the society was the guest of the First church society, they furnished the music, which was especially good. In the absence of Dr. Smith, who could not be present, Dr. Barton, of the Foreign Board, whom the ladies are always gold to great opened the meeting. ways glad to greet, opened the meeting with prayer and with a short, but uncilous, address on "Simplicity and Direct-ness in Mission Work."

Afterwards the meeting opened for business, Mrs. W. E. Hatcher, president, in the chair; Mrs. G. F. Williams, secretary. Societies from fifteen churches retary. reported the amount of collections for the past quarter, amounting to $465. Quite a number did not report, but will send in the amounts later. Several Sunbeam societies have been organized since beam societies have been organized since the last meeting. Mrs. Robert Smith, of West View, and Mrs. Dill, of Vena-ble-Street, gave highly interesting ac-counts when called out of the manner of conducting these societies, which num-bered about sixty small children. It was conceded that the hope of mission work was in the children and the outlook is was in the children, and the outlook is that a number of Sunbeams will be or-ganized very soon. Several of the churches showed great improvement in their work. Mrs. James Crump told of two interesting societies recently organ-ized in the Second church. The Second church was the banner one this time. having raised nearly $100 in three months There was such a spirit of hopefulnes manifested that the president announce that she was about ready to change the topic-"The Needs of Our Societies"-to one of congratulation. A number of ladles responded to the call in five-minute talks. It was highly gratifying to see the interest in the exercises so

The new president of the Central Com-The new president of the Central Committee, Mrs. J. S. Dill, was introduced to the ladies, and she made a talk explaining her work and asking for co-operation. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Kyer for the president of the Central Committee and of the society. Very interesting extracts were read from piles. tral Committee and of the society. Very interesting extracts were read from missionaries, and an invitation was presented to the society from the Grace-Street Branch that they would have Mrs. Tatum, missionary to China, meet the ladies in the Tabernache on Monday afternoon next, from 4 to 5, after which she would be tendered a reception in the home of the president, 608 west Grace street. This invitation was accepted. The circle adjourned to meet with the Pine-Street church on the second Thurs-Pine-Street church on the second Thurs-day in April,

MEMBERS OF BOARD OF VISITORS. Governor Appoints Two On Denf, Dumb, and Blind Board.

Governor Tyler sent to the Senate yeserday two nominations to the Board of Visitors of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institution at Staunton. The Senate will probably confirm them to-day, when they will be made public.

Governor Tyler says he will probably not appoint a quarantine officer for the port of Norfolk until after the adjourn-ment of the Legislature. He is compelled to do this in order to keep up with the current duties of the Executive office. Dr. Hope, the present quarantine offi-cer for the port, called on the Governor yesterday in company with Senator Maynard and Delegates Charles T. Bland and M. S. Newberne. A delegation consisting M. S. Newberne. A delegation consisting chiefly of members of the Legislature from Southwestern Virginia visited his Excellency in the interest of Dr. Sayers, a young physician of Norfolk, who wants to succeed Dr. Hope. Dr. Enyers is a son of the member of the House from Wythe county. There are many other, candidates for the position. The expenses of this office are borne as follows: By Norfolk city, 3-7; by Porismouth, 3-7; by Norfolk city, 3-7; by Portsmouth, 3-7; by Norfolk county, 1-7. Portsmouth and Norfolk county, 1-7; by Portsmouth, 3-7; by Norfolk county, 1-7. Portsmouth and Norfolk county are asking the reappointment of Dr. Hope, who has held the position two years. Before Dr. Hope's appointment Norfolk had the office

The Governor has received the application of Addison Lewis, Jr., of Pulaski, for removal of political disabilities.

Presentations to Law-Makers.

The officers and guards at the peniten tiary, some fifty in number, in spirit of appreciation of the interest he has taken in that institution, presented Hon. Addison Maupin yesterday evening with a handsome thirty-second degree Masonic watch-charm and an elegant ring, and for the same reason a handsome cane to Hon, G. G. Galleher, member of the House from Prince William.

These gentlemen and their admirers gathered at 6:30 o'clock in the office of superation tendent Helms. The presentation speech in each case was made by Hon. B. W. L. Blanton, and Messrs, Maupin and Galleher responded feelingly and appropriately.

Social of Thirteens.

The social of the thirteens given at he Young Men's Christian Association last evening, and extending far into the night, was a most delightful success. There were eighty-two members of the association present, and from these Sec-retary McKee appointed thirteen on membership work, who will each in turn ap-point three others, and for the next thirty days do vallant work to increase the membership of the association. An ex-cellent supper was served and enthusi-astic speeches made in the interest of associational work.

She Wants Her Son.

Mr. W. T. Wilson, the Delegate from Pittsylvania, who attacked the management of the State Reformatory for Boys so bitterly in a speech Wednesday, was visited by Mrs. M. G. Farmer, of 2109 east Franklin street, in regard to her boy Allen, an inmate of the reformatory. Mrs. Farmer said that her boy is 17 years old, and will have been at the reformatory. five years on the lath of next month. was sent there on his mother's solicita through Police-Justice Crutchfield for disobedience and waywardness

Miss. Gould At the Woman's Club. Miss. Golid At the Miss Elizabeth Porter Gould, of Boston, delivered her lecture on the George Washington Memorial before the Woman's Club at 11:30 yesterday morning. A full audience greeted her, and those present were delighted with her presentation of facts in connection with the proposed National University. This was the lecture first delivered before the New England
Woman's Club, and Wednesday night en-Woman's Club, and Wednesday night en joyed by a large audience at the Historial Society.

Commodore Melville to the Ladies Commodore George W. Melville, chie engineer of the Navy Department, Washington, D. C., will give a talk before the Woman's Club on Saturday evening, January 15th, at 8 o'clock, on his Arctic expedition. On this occasion members are en titled to invite gentlemen as escorts, but no ladies residing in Richmond. Licensed to Wed.

A marriage-license was issued yester-day by the Clerk of the Hustings Court to Mr. George Edward Haywood and Miss Mattle Estelle Wilcox.

Virginia Military Institute Board. The Board of Visitors of the Virginia tary Institute will meet at Lexington at 11 o'clock on the 18th Instant. CASTORIA.

Chart Fletcher Tayon

CUBAN WAR NOTES

(CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE.)

dent of the Senate, and five members of the last Canovas Cabinet, have published a manifesto in opposition to the projected Pidal-Silvela coalition party.

Private dispatches from Habana received here to-day assert that the shouts of "Viva Don Carlos!" and "Viva Weyler!" have been raised under the very windows of General Blanco.

A FAIR REFUGEE. . Beautiful Cuban Lady Banished by

Blanco. NEW YORK, January 13.-Senora Inez Ponce de Rocque, wife of the insurgent, Colonel Ponce de Rocque, arrived on the teamer Seneca to-day.

Mrs. De Rocque, who is a strikingly beautiful woman, was exiled from Cuba by order of General Blanco. A letter which she wrote to her husband was intercepted she wrote to her husband was intercepted by the Spanish authorities, and as it con-tained information inimical to their inte-rests, Mrs. De Rocque was arrested and thrown into prison in Matanzas. She spent seventeen months and four days in jail, most of the 'line ''incommunicado.'' When not in solitary confinement she was granted the companionship of a woman granted the companionship of a woman. She was released under the general amnesty granted by the Queen Regent After her release she refused to try to persuade her husband to lay down his arms, and was banished in consequence.

DEMOCRATS NOMINATE GORMAN.

Friends of McComns Active-Demoeratic Attitude Causes Alarm,

ANNAPOLIS, MD., January 13 .- The Democratic members of the General Assembly held a caucus at 1 P. M. to-day. and unanimously nominated Senator Arthur P. Gorman to be his own successor. All the members except three were present, and the nomination of Senator Gorman was made without opposition, The caucus was thoroughly harmonious even the few heretofore anti-Gorman Democrats who were present voted for the Senator, and his selection was unanf-

The General Assembly to-day adjourned to meet again next Monday at 8 P. M. The session to-day was devoid of interest.

The McComas men are manifesting more activity to-day than they have at any time this week, and appear to be sanguine of ultimately electing the Judge as Senator Gorman's successor, Mr. Benas senator Gorman's successor, Mr. Ben-jamin A. Richmond, of Cumberland, has arrived, and is doing some industrious electioneering in McComas's behaif. The Judge's friends still hope to get a caucus, and believe that a few fruitless ballots will induce the opposition to sign a call. The eleven Maister men are solid for Major Shaw, and are jubilant at what appears to them to be certain indications.

appears to them to be certain indications of his election. They hint that when the balloting begins the Southern Maryland and Eastern-Shore votes, now counted on as for McComas, will be cast for Shaw, The majority of the Republican members appear to be so anxious to land them-selves with the winner that conservative judges believe that any sudden agitation for any of the avowed candidates or for a dark horse would stampede them, The attitude of the Democrats occasioned the McComas leaders some alarm. The forty-nine members of that party in the assembly preserve the perfect discipline they showed at the outset, and can turn the tide any way they please. Chairman Vandiver and Harry Welles Rusk are on hand to overlook the situation and direct the Democratic tion and direct the Democrats. The morning train brought down a large crowd of city and State politicians Among them were Representatives Mudo Among them were Representatives Mudd and Booze and ex-Representative John V. L. Findlay. Mr. Findlay's boom for Senator does not attract much attention, as the possibility of his election is considered very remote.

The Senate and House agreed to-day to ballot severally for the election of a United States Senator on Tuesday next, but the senate conference for the senate conference con to hold a joint conference for the same purpose on Wednesday, and to continue to hold such conferences daily until Mr. J. M. Robertson and wife, of Charlottesville, are registered at the Jefferson. A large delegation appeared before Gov-ernor Lowndes this morning to arouse local and State interest in the construction of the Round Bay naval dry-dock, to be built on the Severn river, about five miles above Annapolis.

Senator Gorman introduced a bill in the Senate asking for an appropriation for this purpose. Captain John Mullens, United States army, was the spokesman of the delegation, which was introduced to the Governor by State-Senator John Wirt Randall.

THE POPULISTS AT ST. LOUIS.

With Two Exceptions, They Are Middle-of-the-Ronders. ST. LOUIS, MO., January 13 .- With but two exceptions, the Populists who came here yesterday from twenty States, at the call of the National Organization Committee, appointed at the Nashville convention, are of the Middle-of-the-Road wing of the party. The exceptions George F. Washburn, of Boston, and Edi-tor Farrish, of Jollet, Ill., both members of the National Executive Committee, of of the National Executive Committee, of which Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, is chairman. Although they both profess fealty to the policy of non-fusion, they are looked on with suspicion by the out-and-out Middle-of-the-Roaders, and are being watched closely to what their intentions in coming to the

Thus far, Chairman Butler has failed in any way to recognize the convention. This action on the part of Chairman Butler, who was a strong advocate of fusion with the Democrats at the last election, will, so Chairman Park declares, compel the Organization Committee to take independent action as to the future policy of the party, irrespective of the National

To make Washburn show his hand, the chairman yesterday appointed him member of the Committee on Resolution nd Procedure. This committee consists of the following prominent characters in the People's party: Frank Burkitt, Mississippi; John O. Zazal, of Mississippi; J. Dixon, of Missouri; L. W. Peck, Georgia; George F. Washburn, of Massachusetts; W. S. Morgan, of Arkansas; Harry Tracy, of Texas; L. D. Reynolds, of Mississippl; Jacob S. Coxey, of Ohio; L. Mills, of Tennessee; J. F. Willetts, of Kansas. The committee held an all-night session, and when the time for the conference came this morning it had a report

EX-CONSUL A. C. JONES DEAD, He Was Appointed from Virginia in 1879-An Ex-Confederate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 13 .- The United States Consul at Shanghai has cabled the State Department that A. C. Jones, who was until recently United States Consul at Chin-Klang, is dead. Mr. Jones was appointed to his place from Virginia in 1879. He was in the southern army during the late war, and was also with Maximilian in his Mexican campaign. Mr. Jones was in charge of the consulate at Chin-Kiang when it was looted by a Chinese mob, and in compensation for his injuries received from the Chinese Government an indemnity of $20,000

Fourth-Class Postmasters. WASHINGTON, January 13 .- The folowing fourth-class postmasters have been appointed; Virginia—Arcola, P. F. Van Sickler, North Carolina—Baldwin, Silas G Biackburn; Colington, Sara A. Burgess Pactolus, John T. Mobley; Powellsville W. E. Bennett; Wentworth, John G. Mitchell; Whichard, Henry G. York Collegiate Institute. Mrs. E. P. Our Biggest Clothing Sale still moves on-turning out the greatest Bargains in Men's and Boys' Clothing ever offered in Richmond

Always a struggle to make both ends meet—come out even. Few of us succeed even with coat and trousers.

Trousers in stripes, checks plaids, rough or smooth, light or dark-$1.25 to $5.75, were $2 to $9. And we will cut them as small as you wish at our ex-We don't make to order, but we make to fit.

+0+0+0+0+

0. H. Berry & Co., Main and Tenth streets.

THE CHINESE LOAN.

BERLIN, January 13.-The press is greatly excited in the matter of the Chinese loan over the idea of a joint Anglo-German arrangement, The suggestion is eagerly welcomed, and since

It was mooted a distinctly friendlier tone

journal credited with intimate relations

The North German Gazette will promi-nently reprint this from the Asiatic Correspondence to-morrow: "It is probable that China has ordered Li-Hung-Chang sures at Kiao-Chau against foreign

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 13.—The President to-day appointed N. Clifford Nichols postmaster at Leesburg, Va., and Jeseph J. Martin postmaster at Tarboro', Major Walter H. Taylor, of Norfock, is at the Jefferson.

Mr. J. J. Rafferty has been call New York on account of the death of his mother.

and E. Thompson, Jr., News, are at Murphy's. Messrs. W. A. Post, J. K. M. Nawton, E. S. Robinson, E. W. Robinson, C. Perkins, and A. E. Rucker, a sextette from Newport News, are at the Lexington.

MARRIAGES.

Washington, and Mrs. POATES, of Richmond, Va. Mrs. MARY CHARLES THE RESIDENCE OF

funeral of Mr. WILLIAM T. CLARK will take place from his red dence, 1801 Venable street, at 3 o'cloo THIS (Friday) AFTERNOON, Frien

Richmond, Va., January 13, 1808. At a meeting of the Life Underwriters Association of Virginia, held this day at the office of its vice-president, Cunningham Hall, the following resolutions were ciate, Colonel JOHN B. CARY, was an humble submission to the Divine will, we do so with profound grief for the loss of one whose high capacity and character have influenced and, to a large extent moulded the action of this association: whose usefulness as a citizen was -fully recognized that this entire community feels bereaved; whose long its of activity, integrity, and purity stands as an example and pattern to be emu-

2. Resolved, That this association tend the funeral in a body; that this testimonial be spread on the records of

W. B. FREEMAN. T. L. ALFRIEND. Committee

CONTAGIOUS in all its stages completely eradicated by S.S.S. Ob-BLOOD POISON stinate sores and street and st

REDUCTION OF INTEREST.

Metropolitan Bank, of Richmond, va.
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN;
THE METROPOLITAN BANK, OF RICHMOND, VA., hereby gives notice that after the 1st DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1888, THE RATE OF INTEREST will be REDUCED TO THREE PER CENT. PER ANNUM on all deposits with them now bearing interest above this rate.

14. A. WILLIAMS, Cashier.

Idea of Anglo-German Arrangement Welcomed at Berlin.

it was mooted a distinctly friendlier tone toward England has been adopted, approaching open flattery.

Prince Bismarck's saying is recalled that it would be foolishness to regard the English as fools in business matters.

The papers are beginning to recognize that financial influence is far better than the occupation of a Chinese bay.

The Eastern Asiatic Correspondence, a journal credited with intimate relations journal credited with Intimate relations with the Chinese embassy, announces that after the failure of Li-Hang-Chang China placed the loan negotiations in the hands of Sir Robert Hart, Director of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs, who has sought to place the loan in London, secured by the sait monopoly, with every promise of being successful.

The North Gorman Cazeste will provide the companies of the comp

Presidential Postmasters.

Brief Bits of Local News.

Messrs. C. H. Braxton, D. G. Smith, Jr., all of Newport

WAPLE-POATES, Married, in Washington, D. C., January 5, 1898, by Rev. J. T. Williams, Mr. H. S. WAPLE, or

DEATHS.

BOSCHEN.-Died, at his residence, No. 125 south Lauret street, Thursday, January 13, 1898, at 6:50 P. M., THEODORE ELBERT BOSCHEN.

Deceased was in his 45th year, and leaves a wife and eight children to mourn The funeral will take place from the First English Lutheran church THIS AFTERNOON at 3:30 o'clock.

KIND OF STREET STREET, Funeral Notice.

and acquaintances respectfully invited to Tribute of the Insurance Men.

reported and adopted: This association, having learned with deepest sorrow that their honored asso-

Resolved. That though we bow it the association, published in the daily papers, and a copy of it forwarded to the family of our deceased associate. (Signed) JAMES W. PEGRAM.

A. M. Glover, Secretary.

removes the poison and builds up the sys-

Metropolitan Bank, of Richmond, Va-